

Complex Systems Integration & Migrations

Let us help you piece the puzzle together!

In an ideal world one system handles all your functions. But we live in a non-ideal world and one of the most difficult issues in IT is the integration of disparate systems. Whether a new system is acquired to solve a particular problem or through company merger or acquisition, integration with other systems in place can be a daunting and time consuming process.

We, at Integretas, have the experience and skill to help you through the entire process – from data review, matching and cleansing to the architecture of the integration including the processes and procedures necessary to keep those systems in sync and free of errors.

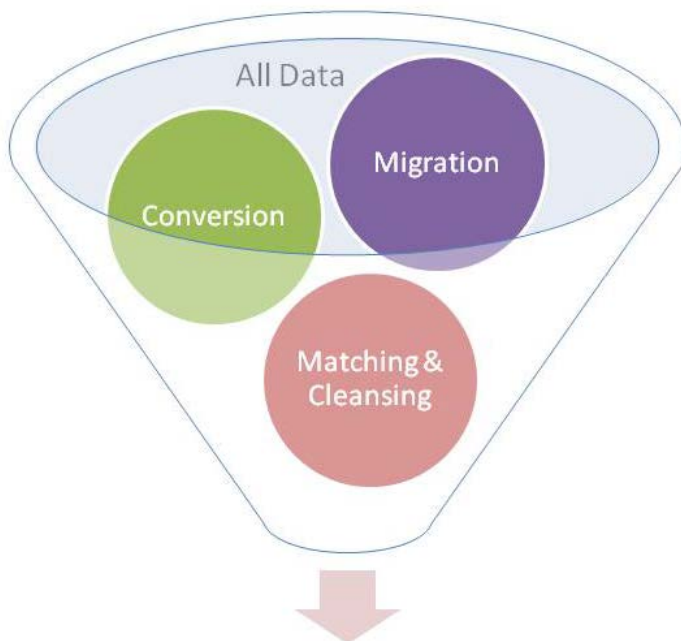

Let us help us take the stress away from systems integration!

OUR EXPERTISE

- Design, architecture and creation of efficient and effective integrations
- Design matching and cleansing
- Data conversion between systems

Our deep industry knowledge can help you propel your business forward. We have provided cutting-edge solutions in the following industries:

- Mortgage
- Financial services
- Publishing
- Manufacturing and automotive
- Hi-tech

Integrated Systems